Relationship to Campus Theme:

Farmers and ranchers enrolled in the Farm Management course continually deal with nature and technology while managing their farms. The major use of technology in teaching the course is in the use of computer programs for keeping business records and then using computer technology to analyze the farm/ranch businesses. The information gleaned from the records and analyses helps farmers/ranchers determine where their business is at presently and that information then helps the students determine what direction they should go with their business in the future. In applying these management decisions farmers and ranchers are continually struggling with the dynamics of what new technologies to use and how those technologies with effect the natural resources that they use continually in their business.

Classroom Policies:

Individualized instruction with satisfactory/unsatisfactory grading system.

Academic Integrity:

Students are strongly encouraged to be completely honest when supplying information to the instructor, to their lending institutions, and everyone they do business with. The instruments used to help the students with their management decisions include numerous accuracy checks that help the student and instructor find inaccuracies and correct them.

Disabilities and Special Needs:

Students are asked to inform the instructor about any special arrangements that may be needed due to disabilities or special needs.
