Fall Semester
16-Week Course

Course Prefix/Number/Title:

EC236 Social/Emotional Development & Guidance (4 cr)

Course Description:

This course involves the study of classroom management, motivation, building self-esteem, positive discipline strategies, and social and emotional development in children. Topics include approaches to guiding children's behavior, managing the environment, rules and limits, problem behaviors, appreciating oneself and others, dealing with separation, providing appropriate support for children, preventing child abuse, promoting success with appropriate materials and activities, interacting through play, and developing friendships. Students develop a personal philosophy of child guidance.

Course Objectives:

- Students will learn to promote children's self-awareness and self-esteem through verbal and nonverbal communication.
- Students will identify and describe factors that contribute to aggressive behavior in children and strategies that help reduce children's aggressive behavior and give them alternative ways to cope with aggression.
- Students will identify and describe children's physical, psychological, and behavioral reactions to stress and identify strategies for helping children cope effectively with stress.
- Students will identify and describe ways to help children develop positive peer relationships and friendships and identify teaching strategies that foster children's development of interpersonal skills.
- Students will recognize signs of emotional distress, child abuse, domestic violence, and neglect in young children and know responsibility and procedures for reporting suspected abuse or neglect to appropriate authorities.
- Students will use individual and group guidance and problem solving techniques to develop positive and supportive relationships among children.
- Students will learn to provide cooperative learning activities to encourage positive social interaction among children, to promote positive strategies of conflict resolution, and to develop personal self-control, self-motivation, and self-esteem.

- Students will identify the principles of child guidance based on the developmental characteristics of young children.
- Students will identify positive guidance strategies for children and for groups of children.
- Students will understand and demonstrate how effective teachers arrange the classroom and schedule in order to promote positive social and emotional growth.
- Students will recognize characteristics of a healthy environment that promotes social/emotional development.
- Students will identify the importance of family-school partnership in child guidance.
- Students will demonstrate an increase in understanding of cultural influences on child behavior—both typical and atypical, as evidenced by classroom discussion.
- Students will use reflective observation to develop their own personal philosophy of child guidance.

Relationship to Campus Theme:

The goal of the Caregiver Services Department is to prepare professionals to work in the caregiver industry and provide an educational continuum for degree advancement. The Caregiver Department is committed to a hands-on learning environment and uses field experiences in caregiving settings as common instructional techniques.

Classroom Policies:

It is essential to build culture and community in the online environment in order that students collaborate together to build a network of learners. To foster and develop this community, students are required to participate throughout the week via online discussions. Suggested due dates are given for work to be completed.

If a student falls more than two weeks behind, the student will contact the instructor and work out a study plan to guide the student towards completing the course on time.

Academic Integrity:

The academic community is operated on the basis of honesty, integrity and fair play. Occasionally, this trust is violated when cheating occurs, either inadvertently or deliberately. This Code will serve as the guideline for cases where cheating, plagiarism or other academic improprieties have occurred.

1. The primary responsibility of the students, faculty and administration is to create an atmosphere where the honesty of individuals will not be questioned.
 - a. Faculty members are responsible for providing guidelines concerning cheating and plagiarism at the beginning of each course, and should use precautionary measures and security in cases where cheating is likely to occur.
 - b. Students are responsible for submitting their own work. Students who cooperate on oral or written examinations or work without authorization share the responsibility for violation of academic principles and the students are subject to disciplinary action even when one of the students is not enrolled in the course where the violation occurred.
